Ladies and Gentlemen!

The County of Staszów, situated in the south-east part of the Świętokrzyskie Province, occupies an area of 926 km² and has a population of 74,000. It comprises 3 urban-rural communes: Staszów, Połaniec and Osiek as well as 5 rural communes: Bogoria, Łubnice, Oleśnica, Rytwiany and Szydłów. In the past centuries, the land of Staszów was under the rule of several families of the First Republic of Poland, hence there are historical palaces, manor houses and even defensive castles in its territory.

For a number of centuries, this was an agricultural region with only minor industry based mainly on craft workshops. Its intensive development has taken place in the last five decades in connection with sulphur mining and processing in Grzybów and Osiek.

We warmly invite you to visit the County of Staszów and have a relaxing holiday. All those who want to invest their capital here in an advantageous manner can be sure to be met with support from highly qualified people as well as kindness on the part of the local authorities.

Best regards

County Governor
Michał Skotnicki

Chairman of the County Council
Damian Sierant

In the past decades, as a result of restructuring processes, over 3,000 small and middle-sized economic entities have been established, mainly in the construction, commercial and automotive industries, as well as services.

The largest production plants: Tadeusz Wrześniak's Household Glass Works in Grzybów and Krzywołęcza, Enea Połaniec Power Plant and the Grupa Azoty – Kopalnie i Zakłady Chemiczne Siarki Siarkopol S.A.
